Two High School Teachers Elected

Two high school teachers were elected at a meeting of the school board held Monday night.

Mrs. Phyllis S. Crane of North Reading, former manager of the Punchard cafeteria, was elected home economics teacher, and Paul A. Hopkins, 116 Saratoga st., Lawrence, was elected general science teacher in the Junior high school.

All members were present when Chairman Gordon L. Colquhoun called the meeting to order shortly after the special town meeting adjourned.

On motion of Mrs. Dorothy Partridge seconded by Miss Anna M. Greeley, the board elected Mrs. Crane to the position formerly held by Miss Marjorie Briand, whose resignation took effect last June. Mrs. Crane, supervisor of the luncheon program of the state department of education, will start at a

Special Town Meeting Votes 218 To 92 To Continue Rent Control

May Question Legality Of Town Meeting

There is a possibility that the legality of the special town meeting held Monday night to consider the rent control extension may be questioned for several reasons.

It is understood that a group of disinterested citizens, being neither tenants nor landlords but deeply concerned over what they consider an insult to the integrity and dignity of the town meeting, are making inquiries into the matter.

One responsible source has stated that in spite of the requirements of the statute which is Chap. 39, Par. 10, in the laws of the Commonwealth concerning meetings which require a petition to be signed by 200 registered voters for the calling of a special town meeting, that this meeting was called upon a certified list of only 127 registered voters. Furthermore, this source contends, the statute provides that an article in a special town meeting warrant can be entered only by petition in writing of 100 registered voters.

Another reason advanced was the question of a quorum. The tally at the door showed 350, a phy-

A special town meeting in a turbulent session Monday night voted 218 to 92 to continue the provisions of rent control here.

Proponents of the measure greeted some of the speakers for the opposition with such shouts and booing that on more than one occasion the moderator, Arthur Sweeney, had to ask them to be courteous and let the speaker be heard, even if they did not agree with what he said.

Bickering over the question of a quorum being present took up much of the hour and 15 minutes that the meeting was in session and finally at 8:05 p.m., it was announced after the third check of those present that 357 people were in the auditorium, seven over the required quorum of 350.

Moderator Arthur Sweeney called the meeting to order a few minutes after 7:30 p.m., and the Rev. John S. Moses, rector of Christ church offered prayer. This was followed by a pledge to the flag led by Chairman Roy E. Hardy of the board of selectmen.

Town Clerk George H. Winslow read the call for the meeting and the first article in the warrant, which was "that a substantial shortage of rental housing accommodations exists in Andover and that the control of rents therein is necessary in the public interest."

William McDonald, the first speaker, said he believed that it is necessary to continue it at this time only because of the abuses that may creep into the rent problem.

Mrs. William Coupe said that the

CHILDREN TO BE GUESTS OF TOPSFIELD FAIR

More than 15,000 children are expected to be guests of the Topsfield fair, Sept. 6 through 12, as the result of the sponsoring Essex Agricultural society's decision to continue 1952's unique experiment of admitting free all youngsters 12 and under, accompanied by an adult.

One of the first major exhibitions in the country to open its gates to children every day, Topsfield felt well repaid last year when an estimated 10,000 flocked to the seven-day fair, adding spice and excitement as they crowded around the livestock show rings and other exhibits where the fair's many 4-H club and other youth competitions were in progress.

Same The World Around

In a book entitled "The Passing of Parliament," Professor G. W. Keeton deals with some of the fruits of socialism as they have flowered in England. He points out that before they come to power socialist writers and spokesmen paint the rosiest conceivable picture of what the future may be expected to bring. Then he contrasts the actuality with the theory in these words: "What the socialist has got, as distinct from what he aimed at, is the exact opposite of those noble aspirations. He has got a rigid mechanism, remote from the indifferent to public opinion, operated at a handsome loss by departmentally appointed officials with salaries as large as those ever paid to capitalist directors, with the added advantage that their losses and official expenses can be underwritten by a beneficent state".

This experience is certainly not confined to England — essentially, it is true of socialistic ventures everywhere, including the U.S.A. Socialized enterprise is, to all practical purposes, completely beyond effective control. It is wasteful and inefficient. And it almost invariably creates huge losses which all the people must help pay.

Best Salesman

Retailers "can't get along" without newspaper advertising "and they'd better not try." Those words didn't emanate from an advertising solicitor, but from a retailer, J. C. Penney, chairman of the board of the company that bears his name, and a man who knows how to sell merchandise.

"We can't do business without newspaper advertising," said Mr. Penney. "The newspapers are our market place where we come to cry our wares."

In thousands of communities the local newspapers reach millions of readers regularly with a visual record of news and advertising that is not matched by any other means of communication.

Too many of the things we call benefits are now what they represent. No government can support the people. — North Attleboro (Mass) Chronicle.

MRS. DAVID M. LAMB

Cibodium ferns and white flowers were arranged on the altar of the First Congregational church, Haverhill, for the wedding of Miss Mary Evelyn Bixby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Bixby Jr., 15 Talmouth ave., Haverhill and David Mason Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mason Lamb of 21 Foster circle, which took place at 8 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Wesley U. Riedel performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore her paternal grandmother's wedding gown of antique ivory satin, fashioned with a high neckline, finished with a sheer yoke applique with satin, fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt ending in a circular train. Her full length heirloom Brussel point lace veil was arranged in cap fashion and attached to a coronet of orange blossoms worn by her aunt, Mrs. Chesley T. Bixby on her veil for her wedding. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis in a shower arrangement, with a white orchid center.

The bridal attendants were Miss Beatrice Brown of Jacksonville, Fla., as maid of honor and the bridesmaids included Miss Elizabeth Bixby of Haverhill, Miss Frances Lang of Milwaukee, Wis., and Miss Patricia Lang of Tucson, Ariz., cousins of the bride; Miss Faith Hanna of Boston, Miss Jane Gaffill of South Bend, Ind., Miss Margaret Lurton of Scarsdale, N.Y., and Mrs. David Alden Pope of Haverhill. The honorary bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Bradley of LaPorte, Tex., and Mrs. Raligh Coates of Kansas City, Mo. Nancy Haseltine of Haverhill was the Flower girl and James F. Britt of Andover was the ring bearer.

All wore floor length gowns of heavenly blue chiffon fashioned with low round necklines, cap sleeves and carried colonial bouquets of rubrum lilies and stephanotis. They wore rubrum lilies in their hair.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bixby chose a bouffant gown of changeable rose with overskirts of grey and lavender nylon tulle and wore rose orchids at the waistline. Mrs. Lamb wore a champagne nylon sheer with a moss green velvet sash and a corsage of green orchids.

Elliot Smith Lamb of Andover served as best man for his brother and the usher group included Granville E. Conway of Ridgewood, N.J., as head usher, George Henry Bixby III of Haverhill, brother of the bride, Benjamin Chesley Bixby of Haverhill, Richard L. Lang of Evanston, Ill., Donald L. Oesterreicher of Brooklyn, N.Y., Burnham W. Riggs of Andover, Robert G. Stetson of Belmont and Michael F. Brewer of New York City. The honorary ushers were Ronald Smith of Hudson, O., cousin of the groom G. Richard Murray of Dayton, O., Benjamin Edwards of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and David Edwards of Brentwood, Mo.

A reception in the garden of the bride's home followed the ceremony. An orchestra furnished the music.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda the couple will reside at 222 S. Main st., Bradford.

The bride is a graduate of Abbot academy and will enter her senior year at Smith in September.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Peddie school and from Yale university. He has completed army service as a member of a strategic intelligence unit attached to the office of the assistant chief of staff in Washington, D.C.

CHURCH GROUPS VOTE TO UNITE

Delegates also approved a new 12-member committee (six from each denomination) which will consider the advisability of further union of work by the two churches, especially in the fields of ministry and church extension.

The union of the two denominations was hailed at the final banquet Monday night as a great history-making event.

Red Cross Notes

The Greek ambassador to the U. S. has requested the American Red Cross to assume responsibility for collecting relief funds for people left homeless by the recent earthquakes in Greece. Any one wishing to contribute should do so through the Andover Red Cross chapter, 8 Elm st. The money will be sent to the Greek Red Cross.

Mrs. Alden Cook, Mrs. Harold Johnson and Miss Barbara Loomer attended a recent meeting on the Red Cross blood program at the Boston chapter headquarters. It was pointed out at the meeting that the cost to the Red Cross of carrying blood from a donor's arm to a recipient's arm is $4 to $5. As a result of the cessation of hostilities in Korea 15 defense blood collection centers and 17 cooperating community blood banks will close on Aug. 31, leaving the 45 Red Cross centers to carry on to meet the constant requests for blood for both civilian and defense use.

A contribution of two dollars for the Worcester tornado victims has been given the Red Cross by children from the Shawsheen road area. Maria Auchterlonie, Priscilla Ball and Heather MacKenzie earned the money by selling cold drinks.

Mrs. Herbert F. Allicon, a Red Cross Gray Lady, who has given many hours of volunteer work to the Veterans administration hospital in Bedford, was cited in the silver anniversary of the Oval Mirror, the institution's monthly magazine. The acknowledgement reads, "Last but not least, our gratitude extends to Mrs. Allicon, our Gray Lady, whose professional knowledge of the typographical art has been of inestimable assistance."

As part of the veterans hospital recreation program, a group from the Red Cross Canteen committee gave a picnic on Aug. 18 for 100 patients on the grounds of the hospital. Mrs. Bernard H. Capen was chairman of the volunteers. She was assisted by Mrs. George F. Bushway, Miss Madeleine Hewes, Mrs. George B. Westhaver and Mrs. Myron Smith. The Andover Red Cross paid for the refreshments.

Many people think they are playing the races when in reality the races are working them.

sical count of those in the hall a few minutes later after a few left and some others came in, showed 347, and a later count, after more people came in totalled 357 and a quorum was declared. This may be subject to question.

It is also pointed out that the selectmen had determined previously that there was no housing shortage in Andover and had refused to call a town meeting. When the meeting had finally been called as the result of the petition, inquiry was made of one of the selectmen to determine whether the members had changed their views and voluntarily called the meeting, or whether it had been called on the basis of a petition, supposedly in accordance with the statute.

The selectman interviewed was very emphatic in his statement that they had not called a meeting voluntarily and that the meeting had been called solely because of the filing of the petition and on the assumption that the petition had a sufficient number of signatures.

Another contention was that persons were in attendance at the meeting who had no legal right to be there.

Town officials say, however, that these complaints come too late to have any effect. The only redress, Town Clerk George H. Winslow said, would be to file a petition for another town meeting to rescind the action, or a court order stopping the effect of the vote taken Monday night.

Regarding the petition, Mr. Winslow said that the selectmen at first did not call a special meeting feeling that there was no rental shortage here and no interest in a special meeting. After receiving the petition, however, they thought there was enough interest and issued a call for the meeting. He said the selectmen could, if they wanted to, make the petitioners secure 200 names before they acted.

Every self-made man relieves somebody of a responsibility.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING VOTES FOR RENT CONTROL

day after rent control went off she was evicted from a house where she had lived 27 years.

Joseph E. O'Brien moved that the article be accepted as read.

Vincent Treanor questioned the present of a quorum and the checkers at the door were asked for the count. It was reported that exactly 350 had been admitted. A few moments later it was explained that the count showed 349 and one other person had since been admitted.

A motion was made for a count of those in the hall and about a score got up and walked out.

The moderator appointed Selectmen Hardy and Sidney P. White to make a count and many in the audience dissented, some saying that the count of the checkers at the door should be taken as official. The meeting got so noisy at this point that Mr. Sweeney had to ask that they be quiet until the count was taken.

When a motion was made that a count of the checkers be accepted Mr. Sweeney said it was not a question that the meeting could decide. He said that if anyone at any time questioned the presence of a quorum he would have to decide if there was one in the hall at that time.

Count of the tellers was then announced as 347, three under the quorum.

A motion to adjourn was met with jeers and shouts of "No."

Mr. Sweeney said that the meeting had no power to act unless there is a quorum present to transact business and that a motion to adjourn was the only one he could entertain.

The tally of the two selectmen was questioned and a recount asked.

John F. O'Connell arose to speak and was greeted with such an outburst that the moderator called upon them to be courteous.

Mr. O'Connell said that it was an insult to the moderator and to the town "when you try to roar the moderator down."

Further discussion as to the number of persons present resulted in Mr. Sweeney ordering the doors closed and another count of those inside the hall taken. This time, at 8:05 p.m., it was announced that the count was 357.

Mr. O'Brien's motion to accept the article was then considered.

Mr. O'Connell said that the question being voted was not rent control, but tenant control. He said there is no proof of a renting shortage here. He said that if anybody in the hall wanted an apartment to see him.

Atty. Walter Mondale announced that Fred E. Cheever had 20 vacant houses for sale.

Vincent Treanor said the meeting represented about two-and-one-half percent of the town's population. He said rent control of any sort was a form of socialism, not a form of Americanism.

Mr. O'Connell said he had 20 or more apartments and that there is no great demand for them. He proposed an amendment to the article that would exclude from rent control any house of 10 or more apartments. He said there are only two such apartment houses in Andover.

Atty. Walter Tomlinson, town counsel, said he had a duty to advise the meeting that the statute would not permit the exception that had been made in the amendment.

Put to a vote, the amendment was defeated.

Article 1 was put to a vote and adopted, 218 to 92. Questioned about the total not being 350, Mr. Sweeney announced that there were a number of people present who did not vote.

Article 2, authorizing the selectmen to sell town land near the dump, and Article 3 allowing them to sell land on Red Spring road were accepted.

The meeting adjourned at 8:47 p.m.

There is no substitute for intelligence—the nearest thing to it is silence.

Heads,

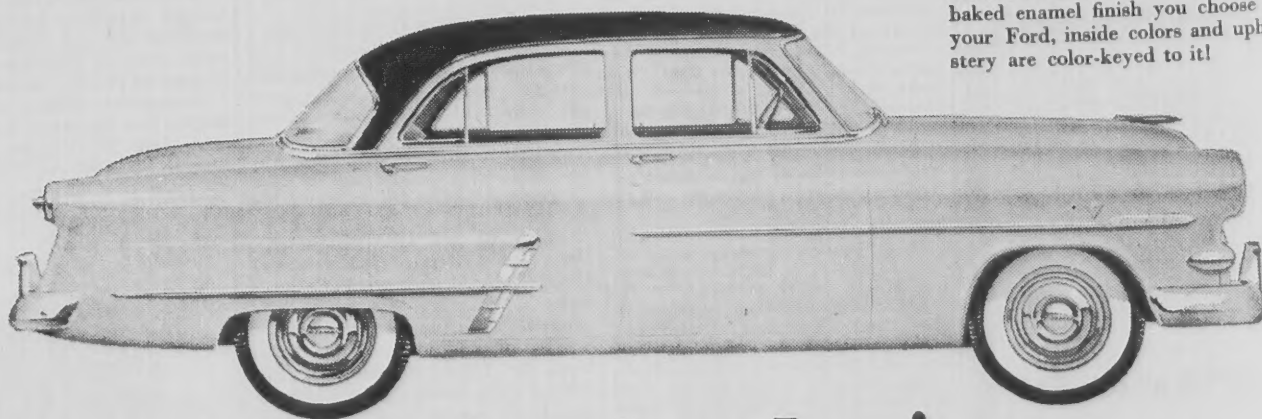

It's a honey! And behind the massive good looks of its grille is a heart of GO. Ford alone offers your choice of the lowest-priced V-8 or America's most modern Six with your choice of three great drives: Fordomatic, Overdrive and Conventional Drive.

Tails

It's terrific! More glass area than any other car in its field—that's what Ford gives you! And there's handy Center-Fill Fueling, suspended brake and clutch pedals, and many other features which explain why you can't buy better than Ford.

or Sideways

It's sensational! Nobody can match Ford's Crestmark Body! It's hull-tight to seal out weather and noise. And no matter which beautiful baked enamel finish you choose for your Ford, inside colors and upholstery are color-keyed to it!

it's Ford for looks!

Ford's heart-stealing good looks are just one reason...

it's worth more when you buy it, worth more when you trade it!

See it... Value Check it... Test Drive it!
